Processing policy for data collected on the website

Type of data collected

During browsing, our server (hosted by OVH.COM) stores logs. Your IP address is identified, as well as your requests (such as a page-by-page visit).

Reason for data collection

The server logs aim at the detection of intrusion attempts and faults in order to guarantee the computer system's security.

Who processes the collected data?

DIREXION (website management company, subcontractor) and OVH.COM (host, subcontractor) are the recipients of the server logs for the above purposes. Access to the log system is secured and supervised. OVH.COM is a subcontractor and ensures having implemented all the technical and organisational steps to protect the data as required by the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) which replaces Directive 95/46/CE.

Retention period

The server logs are stored for a period of 24 months.
